Grayling Schools opened Tuesday morning with a larger enrollment than ever. This was especially true of the assembly when it was found ecessary to provide a number of extra seate and it was found there were 241 pupils in High School alone The first thing on the program was Mrs. Arthur Bigham, of Maple Forest And more seats in the class rooms township was lost Monday when he had to be arranged. The Senior class this year numbers 38, which will mean one of the largest graduating classes of Grayling High.

There are also several young cople taking post graduste work, most of whom are in the Commercia department. And there are also some new students.

As to the new teachers they are fitting in nicely. Miss Margot Monroe has returned again and will take some of the classes in High School. Miss Rosalyn Lewis did not report for duty on the opening morning owing to illness, however she will be here within a few days.

Everyone seems to be in fine spirits and school is in full swing again and from now on the people of the com-munity will watch with much interest the progress of the

to Person's Character If you can bersuade a person to outline to you just what is his ambition in life you will have secured a good key to that person's character. Some people want to be rich. With dillgence, thrift, and average intelligence, this is perhaps the ensiest ambition to achieve, particularly if a little greed is mixed into the recipe. Some people want power and recept. Some people want power and recognition. It they are willing to pay the price, this ambilion, too, can be achieved. Here, too, greed can assist the crafty climber.

Some people want the friendship and respect of their fellow men, with as much worldly goods thrown in as two consistent, with a life policy of giving everyone else the best of the bargain. Eriendship and respect are the parest Ericadship and respect are the tarest treasures a man can have and the hardest to obtain.—Exchange.

Universities' Beginning

Universities' Beginning Medieval education was mostly by and for the church. In the early Tweitth century at Bologue in italy a revived interest in Roman law attracted students and at galerno teachers of medicine drew pupils from many lands, while Peris became a center for theological study. A university was originally an incorporated group either of teachers to whom students resorted, or of stuwhom students resorted, or of stu-dents who hired, and fired, their professors. Popes and rulers gave priviof study became organized, granting of degrees became common, buildings and endowments were accumulated centuries scores of universities had been established, many of which like Oxford and Cambridge, have had in inbroken existence ever since.

England's "White Horses" There are three "White Horses" in England, one in Berkshire, one on the downs three miles east of Westbury in Wiltshire, and a third at Lol-worth near Weymouth in Dorsetshire. On the top of the White Horse hill in Berkehire is a magnificent Roman in Berkshire is a magnificent Roman eamp, complete as if left only a few years ago, and on the downs at Westbury the earth works are as perfect as any could be found in France from the World war. As these two horses are only a few miles apart, with their camps, there seems good reason for beliefun the legends told of them to be founded in fact. There is no doubt that battles were fought in that sec-tion. The Dorsetshire horse was cut commemorate another event.

Army Mule Losing Out The urny mule, though more than holding its own in difficult tountry, is elsewhere fighting a losing partie against the machine age. Hard-kicking hoofs are yielding to balloon tires and the cyclcal bray of restervent is being raplaced by the pure of welloiled motors which are not subject to arbitrary balking. The two regiments of regular infantry forming the First brigade of the First division have been equipped with motor tracks and motorcycles utility cars and truck trailers. And now the field and combat trains of the Six-teenth and Eighteenth infantry regiments stationed respectively at Goverpers island and Fort Hamilton, are to he motorized.

Charcot Ranked Among "Picasees of Medicine

"The glamor surrounding Chareet in his lifetime obscured the true value of his work and of the usen him-self. . . It is one of life's little ironies that it was his faulty work wide fame and patients from avery class of society, whereas his enduring, pioneer work was of such a highly technical character that none but spe cialists in his own field could appre ciate its value." So writes Dr. Claude Lillingston in one of his word por traits of "Pioneers of Medicine" is Hygela Magazine. In his identification of a large group of nervous aliments with definite changes in the brain and spinal cord, Charcot attained scholarly achievement which assured him a permanent place in the ranks of great ploneers of medicine.

In the Salpetriere, a French hos pital, Charcot was tossed more or less by chance to care for the insane, the epileptic and the aubjects of hysteria. Such an ill-assorted crowd! Charco had to forge new weapons, evolve new principles and new tests in an effor to do justice to his patients.

Democratic in principles, Charcot on one occasion when a princess depreferential treatment, exclaimed: "This stranger does not seem to know that we have taken the claimed:

Blind Find Protection

in Sensation of Fear Fear is the agency that prevents blind people from running into objects in their path, according to a builetin of the Better Vision institute. The researches of Dr. Vladimir Dolensky, a blind Polish scientist, published in the quarterly printed for the blind in braille, prove that a sensation akin to tear affects the thousands of had follicies which cover the face and body, says the bulletin, and causes the feeling of tingling that a biind person has when he approaches an object unexnectedly. This reflex only occurs when the blind person is not consciously aware that he is in danger. The contracting of the hair follicles is some thing like the bristling of a cat at has smelled a wolf.

"These who still have the use of their eyes are without this sixth continues the bulletin. "Hour out of ten of them do not even have the common sense to know that their eyes themselves need assistance."

Temptation for Pepys

Black Monday was surely as nothing to the Tuesday that follows an Easter bank holiday, writes a columnist in the Manchester (Eug.) Guardian. Mr. Pepys felt the strain of it even under the easier conditions of the Seventeenth century. "To the office." he recorded on the Tuesday of Easter week, 1666, "but, Lord, what a confic I had with myself, my heart temption about some pleasure or other."

For the encouragement of many he was able to add: "However, I did not budge, and, to my great content, did a great deal of business."

Make Apples Blush

By turning the ultra violet rays of a mercury lamp on green apples, using a filter of some special glass, the Boyd-Thompson institute of plant research has been able to speed up the action of the sun and turn the green truit into a beautiful red color in 40 to 96 hours without burning or overreating. In other words, the fruit is colored quickly by improving on the son's methods. If the peel is too old or crushed no color results, as Dr. John M. Arthur, in charge of this investigation, found that only living cells of the apple peel will respond to this treatment.

Plymouth Brothron

The sect known as Plymouth Brethren was founded by an Irish clergyman, Dr. John Darby, in 1827. The ary efforts were highly successful in Switzerland, Germany, Italy, France and the United States. The doctrine besides being evangelical, believes in metmologies for mainstranteshore and the body does not believe in a ministry set apart, believing all men are equal in matters of faith and doc-

National Anthom "The Star Spangled Banner" was made the national anthem of the United States by act of congress, signed by the President, March S. 1931. Prior to this its only official recognition occurred nearly a hundred years after it was written, when it was formally ordered to be played in the army and navy on eccasions of ceremony. Its standing was undisputed in other lands, and when-ever America was honored in music this air was played.

Why Electricity Is Not

Yet Fully Understood Biectricity is known to be a form of energy, just as we have chemical light heat and other forms. According to one authority: "Innumerable attempts have been made to ascertain the true nature of electricity, but it cannot be said that as yet there is any true knowledge of what this subtle ugent

According to the electronic theory of hypothesis, the atom of matter is inade up of smaller boilles called electrons electrical in their nature, and consequently all matter intimutely is electrical, the atoms of the different elements of matter consisting of a cer tain number of electrons, thus 700 in the hydrogen stom and 11,200 in the

Why Shrike "Impales"

The shrike, belying its mune, is in reality a song bird, but a bird which has the comusical nickname of the butcher bird. There are some 200 species of shrike, but only two of the family are to be found in the United States, these two being about ter Inches in length.

Its unlovely name comes from a physical weakness which its ingentity has overcome. It is not only an lasec eater, but also preys upon mice and small birds. Its feet are its weakness and it is unable to hold its prey in its talona Handlenpped, the shrike selzes its food in its beek and then imwhich serves as its talons.

Why Moisture Hurts Paint One of the worst conditions for painting is the presence of moisture. It is important, in painting the new house, to see that all surfaces are thoroughly dry before attempting to paint them. If paint is applied over a surface containing any appreciable amount of moisture, especially if the moisture be internal, that is, contained in the uniterial painted, just as soon as the interior of the house becomes warmed the water vapor will attempt to escape through the paint film and eventually will cause either blistering or peeling of the film.

Why Blood Clots in Eggs Blood clots in eggs are the result of overstrained egg organs causing the membranes of overy and oviduet to become inflamed and the swollen blood vessels let go, so that escaping blood forms a clot which later is included in an egg. Clots in or attached to the yolk come from the ovary, while those that are found in the white comfrom some section of the oviduct.

Why "Red-Letter Day" Formerly red-letter days were those so indicated in the calendar of days in the Book of Common Prayer, and some prayer books are still printed in this style. In general usage the term has come to mean especially fortunate or auspicious days in a person's life, or days to be remembered because of some important event or benefit.

PENITENCE

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK Late Dees of Men, University of Illinois

"Repent," the prophets in Holy Writ were wont to advise sinners, and that was the cry of John. the runner of the Great Teacher. Penitence, I suppose, is sorrow for ain committed, human regret that one has violated moral law. It has always been inter esting to me that a call to repentbeen atrengthened by a statement of the penalty which would fall if the sinner falled to change his point of view. It was genarally in order that they might "flee the wrath to come" that offenders were urged to penitence.

Is it sorrow, then, for the offense against law or is it fear of the consequences which is most often the impelling motive to repentance? I should not want to say. Warner, who had really been brought up very well and who had never been in any real need of money, was caught forging various checks. He was apprehended, arrest ed and put in fall. His father cana to see me to adjust such matters as could be adjusted.

"The boy is very penitent," he said.
"His stay in jail has given him time to think what his conduct is leading him to, and he is sorry, I assure you, for what he has done."
"Is he sorry," I asked, "for what he has done, or is he humiliated by the fact that he has been detected in a rather crude violation of law, and for the legal and social consequences which he is facing?"

"I don't know," the father replied.
"Maybe if he had never been caught he would never have been sorry."

Jenson, who was working by the hour, got into a straitened financial simption. He needed money and so devised the system of marking up his hours when he handed in his time check. The thing was detected shortly, as such things are sure to be "I am thoroughly ashamed of what I have done," he said to his employer, and more sorry than I can tell you

Vote Right-HOLBROOK for CONGRESS

WE, Grayling friends of Carl Holbrook, Republican candidate for the office of Congressman of the 10th Congressional District, respectfully endorse him for that office.

WE know he is energetic, capable and honest and will stand square toed on every question that comes up for consideration and will at all times represent the people of the 10th district without quibbling or straddling.

HE will vote yes or no on every question.

HE will be our representative in fact as well as in name.

HE favors the repeal of the 18th amendment and the payment of the soldiers bonus.

HE believes in REAL economy in government, not false economy.

HE has always resided in the 10th district of Michıgan.

NOW serving eighth year as prosecuting attorney of Clare County.

HE is endorsed by EVERY man who is eligible to vote in his own home city except one---a most remarkable record.

THE 10th District needs a change in Congressman and Mr. Holbrook has proven that he is eminently fitted to be the successor of the present incumbent.
